Whittemore, Mr. Willard, Kent Ward.

Special trains will be run to and from Queen City park, Burlington, on Tuesday next, when the Universalists' grove meetings will be in progress. Several eminent speakers are promised for that day. The train north will pass this station at 8:03; returning will reach here at 5:29. Round-trip tickets from this station will be sold at 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for children between 5 and 12 years of age. The rates from other stations on the line are equally reduced.

The Rutland Herald of Saturday contained this item: "Manager Beals returned from Middlebury yesterday, where he put a telephone in the residence of Ex-Gov. Stewart and connected it with the Congregational church there. Mrs. Stewart is an invalid and had the instrument put in so that she could hear the sermons as they were preached from the pulpit, a distance of half a mile from the house. There is only a transmitter at the pulpit desk; there are no bells to ring and a person at the church cannot talk with any one at the house. The apparatus was thoroughly tested and worked to perfection. It is the only telephone arrangement of the kind in the State."

Col. Thad M. Chapman has sold to John Spencer the house and lot on Seymour street, north of the crossing, for $1000. Mr. Spencer and family have moved into it.

The Sheldon museum has become the recipient of some fine art treasures from Hon. Columbus Smith, who has just returned from Europe. They include marbles, coins, portraits, etc.
